Chapter 335: The Fourth Jewel and the Dual Crown of Divinity

Sung Jin-Woo’s divine evolution reached an extraordinary milestone with the manifestation of his fourth divine jewel. This new jewel, formed alongside the second one on his forehead, symbolized the perfect balance of his unparalleled divinity.

The Four Divine Jewels

Each jewel represented a core aspect of Sung Jin-Woo's divine being:

1. The Jewel of Creation (Chest):

The source of his boundless creative power, allowing him to bring forth realms, life, and divine tools from nothingness.

2. The Jewel of Insight (First Forehead Jewel):

Granting him omniscient understanding of the multiverse, the ability to perceive past, present, and future simultaneously.

3. The Jewel of Abundance (Stomach):

Representing his role as the God of Abundance, it provided infinite reserves of divine energy and sustenance for all creation.

4. The Jewel of Harmony (Second Forehead Jewel):

This new jewel symbolized the balance and unity of all forces within the multiverse. It granted Sung Jin-Woo the power to harmonize conflicting energies and maintain universal stability.

The Dual Crown of Divinity

The presence of two jewels on his forehead gave Sung Jin-Woo a radiant, crown-like appearance. The jewels emitted a celestial glow that changed hues based on his emotions and divine intent:

Golden Radiance: Symbolizing peace and prosperity.

Silver Luminescence: Representing wisdom and insight.

Black and Violet Flame: Indicating his readiness for battle or divine intervention.

This dual crown became an icon of his absolute rule, inspiring awe and reverence across all realms.

Enhancement of His Divine Powers

The addition of the fourth jewel amplified Sung Jin-Woo’s capabilities to unimaginable levels:

1. Reality Manipulation:

He could now alter the fabric of existence on a whim, reshaping realms and rewriting laws of nature effortlessly.

2. Cosmic Restoration:

Beyond rewinding time, he could now restore cosmic entities to their prime state, regardless of the extent of damage.

3. Eternal Harmony:

His divine presence brought peace even to the most chaotic corners of the multiverse, resolving conflicts without the need for violence.

The Multiverse’s Reaction

The revelation of Sung Jin-Woo’s fourth jewel sent ripples of divine energy through all realms. His followers, worshippers, and priests experienced an unprecedented surge in power, their abilities evolving to new heights.

Celestial Wings and Forms: Many of his followers gained additional wings or new forms, becoming even more radiant and powerful.

Shadow Armies: His shadow soldiers and dragonkin developed enhanced intelligence and strength, further solidifying their position as the ultimate forces of the multiverse.

The Divine Triad’s Counsel

Ashborn and Sung Su-Ho convened with Sung Jin-Woo within the throne room of Umbra Citadel, their expressions a mix of pride and wonder.

Ashborn:
“The multiverse is flourishing under your rule. Your power transcends what any of us could have imagined.”

Sung Su-Ho:
“Father, the dual jewels on your forehead... they are the very embodiment of balance and insight. With them, no force in existence can rival you.”

Sung Jin-Woo smiled faintly, his gaze fixed on the infinite expanse of realms visible through his All-Seeing Eyes.
“This power is not mine alone—it belongs to all who dwell in the multiverse. My duty is to guide, to protect, and to nurture. Together, we will ensure that this harmony endures forever.”

A New Era of Balance

With the fourth jewel and the dual crown, Sung Jin-Woo solidified his role as the supreme protector and creator of the multiverse. His vision of a united, thriving existence became an eternal reality, ensuring peace, prosperity, and infinite potential for all.

The Absolute One stood unmatched, his light shining brighter than ever, a beacon for all creation to follow.
